Congress Committee Has 'Missing List' Mystery

By SAM FOGG
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 25.—A mysteriously "missing" list of alleged congressional contributors to a Communist-front group prompted the House Un-American Activities committee today to investigate itself.

An all-out probe was ordered by chairman Wood (D) Ga., after a former FBI undercover agent, Matthew Cvetic, claimed that a file he gave the committee cannot be found.

The folder is said to have contained letters from Senators and House members to the American Slav Congress as well as a record of contributions from congressmen and other political figures.

The situation involved the House group in a dispute with its star.

Thirty-seven years ago, March 25, 1913, was the disastrous flood which hit New Castle and the surrounding areas. The business district and along the Shenango river to Mahoningtown was under water, covering the ground around the old New Castle steel mill, where the United Engineering now stands. This disaster prompted the erection of the Pymatuning dam and other flood prevention plans.

City parking meter coin collector was given a little ticket on his little blue auto yesterday afternoon, it is reported. The auto was parked in an alley while the collector was making his downtown tour.

Truck Loaded With Dynamite Catches Fire And Blows Up

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 25.—(INS)—A cross-country truck loaded with 20,000 pounds of dynamite caught fire and blew up near Nashville last night with an earth-shaking explosion that killed two men and injured six others.

The blast, heard in two states, destroyed an automobile and another truck, tore a 20-foot deep hole in the concrete highway, rattled windows in five counties and knocked out communication and power lines. The surrounding countryside was thrown into darkness.

The area was jammed for miles along the highway, delaying ambulances and state highway patrolmen rushing to the scene near Pleasant View, Tenn., 20 miles north of Nashville.

Dead Were Auto Occupants
The drivers of the two trucks escaped injury. Dispatcher Glenn Bowers of the highway police said.

Woman Acquitted On Charge Of Beating Adopted Daughter

HOLLYWOOD, March 25.—(INS)—Mrs. Lorraine Michel was free today on a charge that she beat her adopted 9-year-old daughter, movie moppet Lora Lee Michel, for getting fat on candy.

A Hollywood justice court jury of eight women and four men acquitted the 59-year-old Texas woman last night after seven hours and 20 minutes deliberation.

He had heard the defendant variously described as a "very good mother" and a money-grasping woman who starved Lora Lee to keep her from outgrowing moppet roles.

A joint committee of the electricity and gas workers federations announced the end of the utility strike which has left 100,000 men idle after a conference with government officials.

The scheduled dock workers' strike is a protest against shipments of American military aid to France under terms of the North Atlantic defense pact.

Arturo Toscanini 83 Years Old Today

NEW YORK, March 25.—(INS)—Arturo Toscanini, no observer of birthdays, is 83 today.

The famous conductor, still capable of going through a rigorous three-hour rehearsal without sitting down, may be joined for the day by Mrs. Toscanini, who is recovering from an illness at Mount Sinai hospital.

This afternoon he is to conduct the NBC symphony orchestra in one of his regular weekly broadcasts. Only three weeks from today he will begin a nationwide tour that will cover 21 cities.

Friends and well-wishers, ignoring his distaste for fuss over his birth date, sent him greetings or gifts from all over the country.

By TOM AGOSTON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

FRANKFURT, March 25.—A U. S. woman government official and the president of the Czech airlines were disclosed today to be among the 85 persons flown mysteriously out of Communist Czechoslovakia yesterday in three transport planes.

The woman is Catherine Kosmak, 41, of New York, library director of the U. S. information service in Prague. Officials said she was one of 53 aboard who made the trip against their will and she has already returned to her post by train.

Name Not Announced

Hoover Will Be Heard Monday By Spy Probers

Attorney General Also To Appear At Senate Hearing

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Administration leaders counted heavily today on a "summary" of evidence by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to puncture the "espionage" charge of Sen. McCarthy (R) Wis.

Hoover and Attorney General McGrath will be central figures at a Senate public hearing Monday afternoon—possibly the turning point in the investigation of McCarthy's charges that Communists infiltrate the State department.

Four of the five Senate committee members heard a "complete analysis" of FBI material on one of McCarthy's cases at a meeting with Hoover and McGrath.

Not Being Made Public
Committee members would not discuss the evidence, but it was learned that the "principal case" presented was that of the man McCarthy calls the "top Russian espionage agent in this country."

McCarthy says the man is "connected" with the State department. The Republican has said he will "stand or fall" on this one case. But he insists that the committee

Many Changes Are Reported As Impending

Complete Shift Of 'Little Cabinet' Is Now Under Way

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

U. S. SUB BASE, KEY WEST, Fla., March 25.—Impending changes in the top civilian command of the nation's defense forces today overshadowed the seemingly blissful late winter vacation of the president.

The vacationing chief executive outwardly serene, was beset with the problems of a shift in civilian command involving the top executives in all three service branches under the program of unification.

Outstanding Problems
There are three outstanding problems:

1. Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray plans to leave this summer to accept the presidency of the University of North Carolina.

2. Secretary of Air W. Stuart Symington is slated to take over the important new assignment as chairman of the National Security Resources board.

3. Secretary of Navy Francis P. Matthews wants to be sent to the Vatican as U. S. special envoy succeeding Mission Taylor, who resigned recently.

4. Deputy Secretary for Defense Stephen T. Early is slated to return to his civilian job as vice-president of the Pullman Corp. by September.

5. Tracy S. Voorhees, under secretary of army, resigned effective June 30.

Series of Changes
These impending developments involve a series of changes in the entire top civilian defense high command under Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson's administration of the unification program.

With the approach of summer, the two top positions in the Army department will be vacated with the resignations of Secretary for Army Gray and Undersecretary Voorhees, Brooklyn, N. Y., lawyer, who resigned yesterday.

The president is reportedly trying to persuade Gray to accept the chairmanship of the Atomic Energy commission. Gray has told friends he wants to accept the university presidency.

Symington is expected to be succeeded by Thomas K. Finletter.

'Test-Run' By Census Taker

NEW YORK, March 25.—(INS)—The census takers who will begin their work on April 1 were given an indication today of what they may expect when they start the bell-pushing in earnest.

A "test run" was made by enumerator Jack P. Seremeta who devoted two and a half hours yesterday to experimenting. The result of his findings is that the census taker can expect mixed receptions ranging from warm welcomes to brushoffs from housewives.

Seremeta came across several choice replies in response to his knocks at doors. Among them were:

"You can come in if you're quiet. The baby's sleeping."

"You have to wait a second. I'm putting something in the oven."

"My husband won't let me answer the door unless he's home."

Why does the golfer blithely smile, although it looks like rain, why does he look up at the sky and then look down again. Why does he whistle as he works and smirks at all the folks, and laughs at lads who take his time to tell him ancient jokes. This is the reason, bold and clear, it's easy when you know how, the spring has come and gone is now that threat of ice and snow. And as the meadow dries and greens the golfer lad can play, which makes the weather what he wants, it's forty four today.

former ECA representative in London, as secretary for air. The president is biding his counsel on all of these changes. But a good part of the whole picture has come to light.

The impact of it is that a virtually complete shift in the civilian, or "little cabinet" command of the army, navy and air force is underway.

All those around the president know that Matthews is dissatisfied with his selection as secretary of the navy and, as a well known and outstanding Catholic layman leader, desires Myron Taylor's vacated position as special U. S. envoy to the Vatican.

Ten members of the Constitutional Convention never attended one of its meetings.

must have all the files to prove him right or wrong.

Some sources said the "summation" method did not mean that this pattern would be recommended by President Truman when he rules finally on whether loyalty files shall be released to the committee under Sen. Tydings (D-Md).

But they emphasized that from the administration's standpoint such a statement from Hoover would carry much weight.

Fear 'Whitewash' Charge
There is a strong body of opinion, however, that somehow the Democrats must find a way to permit free access to the FBI files if they are to avoid a charge of "whitewash" from the Republicans in an election year.

St. George (D-Ga.) interviewed prior to McGrath's announcement that the "summation" had been given the committee, told reporters:

"I think the committee should have free access to the files where there is substantial reason for the committee to examine them. But there should be no fishing expedition."

"I don't think you'll ever satisfy the public unless necessary information can be obtained from the files. Otherwise, it would confirm the inevitable charge that the investigation was a whitewash."

"It would not be satisfactory for J. Edgar Hoover merely to tell the committee what is in the files."

Withholds Comment
McCarthy withheld comment on McGrath's announcement. But he said he is writing Tydings another letter demanding the right to cross-examine witnesses and offering himself for questioning by them.

He specifically mentioned Mrs. Esther Calkins Bruanuer, United Nations' commission representative, and Haldore Hanson, "Point Four" official in the State department.

Mrs. Bruanuer testifies Monday morning to deny McCarthy's charge that she was active in Communist-front activities. Hanson on Tuesday morning will have his chance to deny McCarthy's charge that he has "pro-Communist proclivities dating back to 1938."

tained strictest secrecy concerning the identity of those remaining in Germany from the planes which landed at brief intervals without advance notice at the Erding air base near Munich yesterday.

Those responsible for the mass escape from communism were said to have originated the flights from widely separated airports at Bratislava, Ostrava and Brno. The planes ostensibly were bound for Prague but headed into Germany instead.

Long and detailed planning apparently went into the operation, but how they joined for the dash over the border was unknown.

Immediately upon their arrival at Erding, the Czechs were hustled into a heavily guarded building at the airport. Intelligence agents, security officials and military police entered and left the building in a steady stream.

TWO ARE KILLED, SIX INJURED IN BLAST ON ROAD

the dead were occupants of an automobile which apparently failed to heed the drivers' frantic warnings to stay clear.

The injured were among a crowd of spectators which gathered to watch the Hercules Powder Co. truck burn, apparently unaware of its dangerous cargo.

The Hercules driver, L. L. Brantley, stopped the truck on a signal from E. E. Minis, who drove a truck behind Brantley's and saw it catch fire. The two men attempted to flag traffic away and then ran to safety.

One of the dead was tentatively identified as John L. Guinn of Nashville from papers found near a body.

CORRECTION

In Friday's ad of Menken's, the address should have read 125 N. Mill street instead of 114 N. Mill street.

CONGRESS COMMITTEE HAS 'MISSING LIST' MYSTERY

witness on Communist party activities in the Pittsburgh region. Wood declared that an inventory of 80 pounds of Communist records turned over by Cvetie "failed to reflect" that any such file was given the committee.

Cvetie insisted that he did give the committee the list and asserted from the witness stand that he saw the "missing" file in the committee hearing room after he came to Washington.

He said he has asked several times that the records be returned to him and was told by staff members that they never saw the file.

Finds No Records
In rebuttal, Wood reported that a Pittsburgh attorney, Harry Sherman, inventoried Cvetie's documents and could find no record of the congressional list.

He said that a full investigation will be made "to determine the present location of the file" and that Sherman will be called as soon as possible.

Cvetie said the list contained the names of national, state and local politicians who had dealings with the Slav Congress after 1944. The Slav Congress was declared subversive by the Attorney General in September, 1948.

Storm Brewing In London

What may prove to be a serious storm is brewing in London today over the case of Seretse Khama, the African tribal chieftain who has been barred by the British government from his homeland.

And some observers feel it may upset long-prepared and painstaking plans by the Laborite government to offset territorial losses elsewhere in the world by a grandiose scheme of African development.

Seretse, who married a white London typist of middle class family, appears to be a relatively minor figure in the whole affair.

Conservative and Liberal opposition elements in the House of Commons have taken up—in an extremely guarded manner to be sure—his charge that the government is using his mixed marriage merely as an excuse to oust him and thereby tighten its grip on a valuable and thus far little developed area of southern Africa.

The Labor government has made no secret of its interest in African development.

Its position is difficult, however, because of the fact that terrific expense—if not outright failure—accompanied a tremendous venture which attempted to establish peanut plantations in Tanganyika.

Establishment of the United States of Indonesia, grave colonial troubles in Malaya, and Communist infiltration of Far Eastern areas convinced the British that the less they depended upon foreign imports the better off they would be.

There were high hopes that the peanut development would make available vast resources of essential oils. Backers of the scheme still believe it is practical. But even they admit that preliminary expense estimates were far too low and even British pioneers, well experienced in colonial difficulties, were hard put to cope with the Tanganyika jungles.

Major Plans Afoot
Nevertheless, there are major plans afoot and it is entirely probable that Seretse's hereditary estates in Bechuanaland are slated for a major part in them.

Northern and Southern Rhodesia, the latter of which lies due north of Seretse's holdings, are moving toward complete union—economic, financial and territorial.

In Northern Africa, Great Britain has made an agreement with the Senussi tribe of Libya which ensures British domination in the southern reaches of the Mediterranean.

Air bases are being built. Dominion and colonial governments are being encouraged on every hand to construct roads and extend railways.

Water power is being developed to an unprecedented degree. Jungles are being hacked away and in line with this vast development, Britons are being urged to leave their hungry and crowded islands and seek fortunes in areas that have lately been rich but largely laid since the days of Cecil Rhodes.

Long-Range Policy
Traditionally, British foreign policy, whether with relation to colonies or in the diplomatic sphere, is a long-range one.

African development is based to some degree at least upon recognition that dynamic Communism has made great strides in Asia and, of course, in Europe.

The British are determined to do all in their power to keep it in check in western Europe.

But at the same time, British resources are limited at present and they see the vast continent of Africa, so far virtually untouched by the Communist tide, standing wide open to them.

Seretse comes into the picture—a somewhat tragic figure—with his claim that he wants to improve his tribe while the British are determined to despoil and exploit it.

British Deny
This the British government denies. But in an official statement, it refers to what it terms Seretse's lack of "sense of duty" in marrying a white woman which is another way of saying that unimpeded administration is the best possible thing for Africa.

Realistically, government supporters say that Britain's future as a great power lies on that continent. Australia is far away and in fact is turning to the United States. Asia is either written off to the Communists or gravely menaced.

Whether Seretse likes it or not, the next months and years seem destined to witness a surge of British activity on the dark continent. Outside of the western hemisphere, it stands out as one place in the world completely beyond the reach of Joseph Stalin and the Cominform.

TWO YEARS OLD

Two years old! That seems to me much too soon smart to be. Now incredible appears. All he's learned in two brief years. Wisdom fills our Terry's head. He knows everything that's said.

Think of it! Though only two he has learned both "don't" and "do." "Mustn't touch!" he understands. Is to stay his eager hands. Mention "candy" and he shows just what candy is he knows.

Without words he cannot say what he wants or plain as day. By a method all his own. What he's after he makes known. Two, and with that smiling face, Lord and master of the place!

Two! I wonder what he'll be at the older age of three? Tyrant now we all obey. When this year has flown away. Slaves to every mood and whim. We'll be bowing down to him.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

This Lenten Season . . . 1950 . . . has been most impressive . . . churches all over the town and county have offered their members and friends fine programs . . . speakers of note have been giving forth with experiences that have made hundreds of people think . . . deep thinking and about themselves mostly . . . for a city that improves itself must start with the individual. We are not interested in the fanatic religious individuals that seem to be a must . . . we are however very much pleased with the type of individual that leads a life of usefulness. . . . That individual is one who knows that religion is the basic principle. . . . All forms of religion.

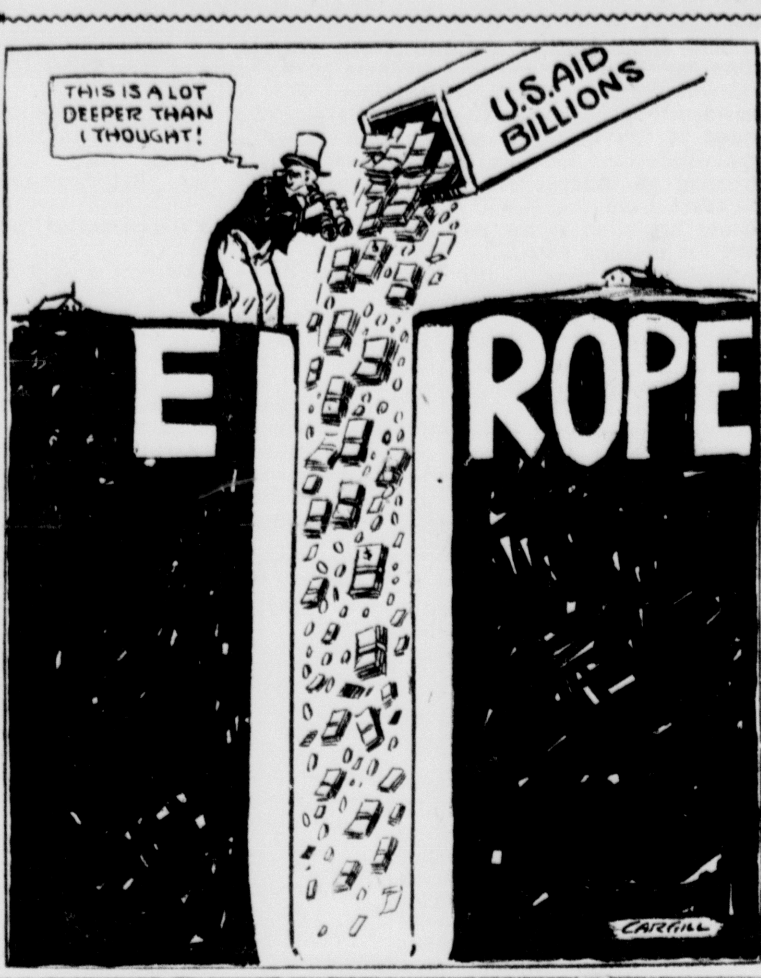

Men and women all over the world are seeing the truth . . . as taught to us by the One God . . . Brotherhood . . . goodwill to reach each other. The things that we live for are more pleasant when such a condition exists.

You will see an advertisement in tonight's paper . . . calling attention to a series of church services that will be held next week in the Epworth Methodist church . . . corner Butler and East Valerian streets. That is enough said about that particular part of the advertisement . . . The part that struck my eye was about the Monday night service . . . starting at 9:15.

Inquired into the thinking about that starting time with the responsible persons. . . . Find that the thoughts make good sense. There are two parts of life . . . religion and business. . . . Business would be worthless if there was no religion . . . and religion would have a difficult time if there wasn't business to keep the people gainfully occupied. So the thought was born . . . Monday night is a business night . . . stores are open . . . factory workers like to shop . . . why try to keep the people away from the stores . . . and not make these services available after Monday night store hours . . . then shoppers, store workers and their bosses could have an opportunity to relax . . . and we added . . . they just might want to have a spiritual period after a busy day which seems to help cope with many a situation.

Yes, we like the idea of a church thinking like that . . . what say you?

Making Confidential Files Public

WASHINGTON, March 25.—Senator McCarthy began by charging in his first political speech that there were 207 card-carrying members of the Communist party in the state department. When he used this same speech a little later in Nevada, the figure 207 had been crossed out and 57 written in.

Up to the moment of this writing it has not been established on the basis of McCarthy's presentation that there is or ever was a Communist party member in the department. This is a fact that should not be lost sight of.

It becomes doubly important in view of the speech of Republican Chairman Guy George Gabrielson in Lincoln, Neb. That speech lends considerable official party backing to the McCarthy line. It refuses those who have been saying that he is acting on his own while the party leadership looks on worried about the next move their irresponsible prankster may make.

"Drive Them Out"
Gabrielson says, "We have too long tolerated communism . . . within our government." He says, "We must drive them out!" This goes quite a way toward making it official.

Now this may be good politics. Gabrielson directs the same kind of attack against Americans for Democratic Action, which has been a highly effective spark plug of the Democratic party. The elections this fall will be in some measure a test of the anti-communist, anti-Socialist line of the GOP.

But there are other considerations that overshadow the outcome of the next election or even the election after that and after that. The future form of this government is conceivably at stake—concepts and traditions going back to the founding of our system.

Republican senators are demanding that confidential files of the executive branch of the government be opened to senate inspection. Even though presumably this would be done in executive session, the material in these files would certainly be "leaked."

A concept preserved since the time of George Washington would have been destroyed and a dangerous precedent established.

Would Be Impaired
On the immediate and practical side, the efficient functioning of the Federal Bureau of Investigation would be impaired. Even though he is reluctant, and properly so, to give public testimony on matters of public policy, the senate committee should call on FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover for his opinion on opening the files.

There can be little doubt what that opinion would be. The issue arose in the first trial of Judith Coplon. Miss Coplon's attorney's piousness led the judge that the FBI files should be opened.

After the first three or four files were spread on the record, Hoover asked by Harry Herschfield to recall the most beautiful compliment he ever had received. "That's easy," said Miss Hurst. "It was from an ardent suitor when I was still in my teens, and what he whispered in my ears was 'Jud burn down the Taj Mahal for Marilyn Miller'—but Rose walk through the flames for you."

Bill Nye, the Will Rogers of the 90s, once declared, "Every home should have a book. The ignorant will enjoy the pictures, the wise will revel in its wisdom, and the housekeeper will find it handy for killing a cockroach."

Publicist Michael Mok insists that an actor once turned up at Billy Rose's Diamond Horseshoe demanding a job as a human cannonball, and Rose promptly informed him, "You're hired; I've been looking for a man of your caliber."

They Say

NEW YORK—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower—"An agreement though it should bear the seal and ribbon of every chancellery in the world, is worth no more than the confidence placed by each signer in the good faith and integrity of every other."

LONDON—Atomic bomb scientist Dr. G. O. Jones—"If I am personally asked to help in developing the super bomb, I shall say, 'No, I'm sorry. It's too disgusting.'"

LE HARVE—World citizen Garry Davis—"Conscience, that's all there is to it—conscience."

WASHINGTON — James J. Green, chairman of the American Legion's Americanism Commission—"Under existing world conditions, the acts of Communists and their party are legally criminal and morally wrong."

Some Earlier Flying Days

By PAUL GALLICO

Sunday, I note quite by accident, is an anniversary of sorts. On March 26th, 18 years ago, Gallico, the intrepid student birdman, performed his first solo airplane flight at Roosevelt Field, Long Island. Strapped into a small blue Kittyhawk biplane, he lifted the contraption into the sky, circled the field once and sat it down against without damage either to himself or the flying machine.

I am not saying that this is as important anniversary as the day when the Wright Brothers first hoisted a heavier-than-air, motor-powered plane off that sand dune at Kittyhawk, North Carolina, or that there should be a national holiday declared to celebrate the day I became a pilot.

Springboard For Aviation Piece

Really, all I am after is a springboard for a little piece to point out that aviation has come a long way since then and to pat myself on the back for being a hardy pioneer—not an ancient, intrepid and noble to be sure, as those who flew crates in World War I, or went flapping about in pieces of animated shirt-tied with string before that, but nevertheless an older in the air. Some day my grandchildren will examine the picture of the funny little kite that won me my wings and cry, "Granddaddy, do you mean you actually flew in THAT?"

But really, that was nothing, because when I look back upon some of the commercial airliners to which I have entrusted the person most dear to me, namely myself, I cannot keep the shudders from sking up and down my vertebrae.

For instance, I flew to the coast in one of those old Ford tin, tri-motor jobs. Do you remember those things? It took two days because you had to spend the night in Kansas City. There wasn't any night flying in those days. I have also been waltzed around the sky in old Eastern Air Line Condors, in Fokkers, in Junkers and Savoia Marchettis. Why, those are names that nobody but me would even remember today.

In First Sleeper Plane

As a matter of fact, I remember flying up from Dallas in the first sleeper plane ever to be put into commission and nearly perishing from stabbing pains in the head because in those days they didn't know enough to wake the passengers before descending so that their ears could adjust. There were upper and lower berths, but since they were not very high, when you slept in the lower it was something like being in a bureau drawer.

So then, children, let me continue to tell you what aviation was like in the olden times. There weren't any pretty stewardesses at first and of course no full-course hot meals. The earliest airline grub I can remember was a box lunch of sandwiches.

The ships were small, narrow and confined and the seats highly uncomfortable. If you were broad in the beam as I was in those days it was a tight fit. They gave you a piece of chewing gum when you got on board, an air map of the route and off you went. Every so often the co-pilot would come back, sit on the arm of your seat and tell you where you were, now high and how fast you were going. It was right chummy.

Something To Curl Your Hair

The European airlines were really something to curl your hair. I was flying with them back in 1928. They'd wheel the kite up on the apron, you'd climb in, the pilot would start the motors and away you'd go without so much as a warm-up. And those climbing turns as soon as the wheels got off the ground—YOW! There weren't any fancy instruments or radar in those days. Once in some weather I was flown from Berlin to Hanover at house-top level. When the pilot came to a factory chimney he just pulled up over it like riding a roller coaster, that is, when he saw it in time. When he didn't, he dipped once and gave it the miss that way. With passengers.

Airliners were still flying planes made of wood and cloth with the motors hanging from the wing in nacelles, and driven by wooden propellers. And can you imagine? Back in those days it took twelve hours to fly from New York to Miami? And five to fly to Chicago? Why, that's practically going by covered wagon compared to what the modern airliner does today and what the squirt job will do for you tomorrow. Boy, they sure roll that landscape under you fast.

Wonder what's become of all the private fliers today? You don't hear about them much any more. You could fly private in my time because all you needed was a crate, some place to store it and a field. There weren't any air lanes and you didn't have to have any radio. I used to take my pup with me when I'd go to Philadelphia to visit, or fly down to the Kentucky Derby—the him up in the front cockpit, ask how the weather was up ahead, climb in and get it. Today they'd throw you into pokey for that kind of flying.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

This is a very unappetizing column. Please do not read it just before eating.

It may spoil your appetite. If these things affect you the way they affect us at home, you'll follow my advice.

Being a bit on the old-fashioned side, we eat our dinner pretty early. At six o'clock, to be exact.

We put a little portable radio on the table and listen to the local news which comes on at that time. There isn't much local news hereabouts, so our announcer makes the most of what he has to work with.

If there is an automobile accident, he describes it in the most minute detail.

You can almost see the blood dripping out of the radio.

Interspersed with the news are the commercials.

For some reason, most of our local commercials are of the drug store variety. I don't have to tell you what.

But most of them don't go very well with soup or roast beef. So I have become quite an expert at eliminating the unappetizing stuff, by just turning the radio off and on at the proper second.

That's why I am telling you not to read this before a meal. But, if you are all through, and have digested your food, here goes.

There was an advertisement in the garden section of our Sunday paper.

It's a household hint, and also intended for people who want to make a little extra money.

If you live in an apartment, it's no good for you.

The heading is: "Let An EARTHWORM be your GARBAGE MAN!"

Then comes the text. I can't quote all of it because there isn't space enough here. But this will give you the idea:

"Did you know that an inexpensive, easy-to-make earthworm pit can be a wonderful way to dispose of all your garbage—and a wonderful way to make marvelously rich compost for your garden, flowers, shrubs, etc.? Look at these facts!"

Then it goes on to tell how "you can buy a few hundred worms to start for a couple of dollars" within a few weeks you'll have thousands!

"You can put ALL your garbage in the pit—even orange peels, coffee grounds, bones—all animal and garden wastes!"

"You'll have NO ORORS—NO FLIES—NO NUISANCE of any kind!"

You can, of course, make a little side money by selling the compost. All you have to do is send a dollar and they'll mail you a book that tells how to work wonders with earthworms.

We need a new garbage can. Ours has a hole in it.

I showed the ad to my wife and started to suggest—

I didn't get very far. But, from what she said, I suspected that if I ever fell for anything like that, she'd feed me to the earthworms.

However, if you are interested, I'll be glad to give you further details.

Quaker City Cites Historical 'First's'

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—(INS)—Philadelphia has long been considered one of the nation's most hallowed historical spots because of the part it played in the revolutionary war.

The Quaker City was the site of the Liberty Bell, the birthplace of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, and at one time was the nation's capital.

Philadelphia, however, has compiled an enviable record of "firsts" which account for the "Philadelphia pride" of its citizenry.

These "firsts" are currently being featured in displays of prints and photographs at the Atwater Kent museum.

Other Firsts

The city is the site of America's "first" astronomical observatory, free medical dispensary, medical school, Scientific Society of Natural History, Stock Exchange, savings bank, fire insurance company, canal, and concrete arch highway bridge.

In addition, the first oxygen blowpipe, the first electrical furnace, the first daguerrotype and the first piano in the nation were turned out in Philadelphia.

The city is also the site of America's first free public library, art school, and public high school.

America's first orphanage, first almshouse and first parks were located in Philadelphia.

And the first American cookbook was written in Philadelphia, which is also the home of the nation's first ice cream factory.

Washington To Vote On Daylight Time

WASHINGTON, March 25.—(INS)—Voteless Washington may get the ballot at last—at least as far as the time of day is concerned.

The District of Columbia commissioners are trying to decide how they will conduct a referendum and avoid the annual wrangle over switching to Daylight Saving Time.

One wants to place the ballots at fire and police stations. Another suggests that policemen distribute them to homes to prevent ballot-stuffing at unsupervised polling places.

TOKYO—(INS)—A new design for skis, embodying the principles of the law of dynamics, has been developed by two Japanese engineers, Prof. Ichiro Tani of Tokyo University and Ken Omori, an aeronautical engineer, have built a pair of hickory skis eight feet in length and moved the bindings 14 inches forward of their conventional position. They claim this should make skiing easier and faster.

must learn to discipline herself; to develop initiative so that she can do the right thing at the right time; to guard against loose tongue, bad temper, and slovenly habits.

The reward, he stated is not measured in dollars and cents but in the gratitude of the patients, and the approbation of the doctors and hospital authorities.

In order to bring peace to the hearts of one's patients, one must have it in his own heart, Rev. Rose stated in conclusion.

Caps Presented

The members of the class were then introduced by Miss Shirley Taylor, instructor in nursing arts, and as each girl's name was called, she stepped to the platform and had her cap pinned in place by Mrs. Rachel Long Colter, director of the school of nursing, and was then presented with her lamp, which was lighted by Mrs. Bette Callahan Acker, assistant director of nursing.

Mrs. Colter stressed the point of loyalty upon the girls, urging them to be loyal to the hospital, their vows, and themselves.

The program was concluded with the recitation of the Nightingale Pledge by the class, followed by the benediction by Rev. Mayo.

The program was enhanced by solo numbers by Arthur Jones of Westminster College. The professional and recreational were played by Mrs. John F. Love, organist of the church, who also played a group of numbers as the audience assembled.

A reception for the class was held in the nurses home following the program in the church.

Railroad To Build Ore-Loading Dock

PHILADELPHIA, March 27.—(INS)—An $8,000,000 ore-loading dock is scheduled for erection at the Greenwich Point area to augment facilities at the port of Philadelphia.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will begin the construction in the near future, according to an announcement yesterday by Road President Walter S. Franklin.

Franklin said the pier will be equipped to handle ore at the rate of 3,000,000 to 5,000,000 tons a year.

Principal use of the pier will be the unloading of iron ore vessels from Venezuela and Liberia for rail transfer to Pittsburgh, Youngstown and mid-western industrial centers.

Benjamin Franklin is credited with introducing the broom to America.

NEW YORK, March 25.—(INS)—The designer of hose for every lush leg from Marilyn Miller's to Rita H. Khan's announced today that he'll mass produce his famous brand of gam-glamour.

Willy Demond, Hollywood designer of stockings, priced as high as $5,000, will consolidate with Sanson Hosiery Mills in a legitimate effort to "make American ladies stocking fashion conscious."

The Sanson-Demond combination promises their next fall line will offer three innovations:

1. Sheer hose with jewel-design clocks which zip into replaceable stockings.
2. Nylons processed to hug the leg like rubber elastic.
3. 51-gauge, 15 denier stockings chemically sealed against snags and runs.

The makers say that their leg wear phenomena will be priced from about $1.95 to $1,000.

Accidents To Head Should Be Watched

PITTSBURGH, March 25.—(INS)

—If the baby pitches out of his high-chair onto his head or grandma bumps her head on the china closet door, keep an eye on them for a few weeks even if no damage shows.

That's the advice of Dr. Adrien Ver Bruggen, professor of neurological surgery at the University of Illinois at Chicago.

Dr. Ver Bruggen recently told fellow surgeons at an American College of Surgery meeting in Pittsburgh that frequently a skull fracture does not indicate the worst head damage. He said the breaking bones sometimes absorb the shock to the soft brain mass underneath.

Actually, the doctor pointed out, children can stand greater blows to the head than adults, because of the elasticity of their skulls. Nevertheless, if the child is knocked out, the first thing to watch for is to see that he moves his eyes and all his extremities when he comes to.

After that, it would be a good idea to wake him up every hour for the next 48 hours just to be sure that he hasn't gone into a stupor. If any alarming symptoms develop, call a doctor.

In the case of grandma bumping her head, Dr. Ver Bruggen said to watch for headaches and drowsiness some two or three weeks later. He explained that these symptoms may indicate a collection of blood under the first thick covering of the brain which can be drained off. If it is not drained, he warned, it will end in death.

Dr. Ver Bruggen said patients recovering from surgery on head injuries should be allowed to do whatever they want to—within reason. This, he pointed out, will avoid the chronic invalidism and neurosis which often follows in such cases when they are made to lie still for weeks at a time and told how serious the operation was.

FRANK BUCK IS TAKEN BY DEATH

was a lecture in connection with a motion picture with the title "Bring Them Back Alive."

Between his trips to distant places he made his home on a ranch near San Angelo, Tex.

In spite of the condition of his health he went to Malaya about a year ago and was planning to return, but his failing health and conditions in that country caused him to postpone the second trip.

His widow and a daughter, Barbara survive.

LABOR VALUES

LONDON—(INS)—An American is willing to work steadily at high speed because he knows that in 15 minutes he can earn the cost of a packet of cigarettes. His opposite number in Britain has to work 90 minutes for the same result. These and other facts were revealed by the Anglo-American Council on Productivity in support of the contention that the U. S. working man will work hard to attain maximum production because, apart from food and shelter, he can buy more with an hour's labor than his British counterpart.

Unity Children's Choir Will Sing At Croton Church

Forty boys and girls between the ages of nine and 16 years will present a program of sacred music in the Croton Avenue Methodist church at 8 o'clock Sunday evening, March 26.

This group is the Junior choir of the Unity Presbyterian church of Greenfield, Mercer county. It is under the direction of Miss Genevieve Bartholomew, a member of that church and a teacher in the Sharpville schools. Miss Harriet Edeburn is the accompanist.

The personnel of the choir was selected after try-outs slightly less than one year ago. The initial program was presented last November in the Unity church and since then have presented several sacred concerts. In mid-December a program was presented in the United Presbyterian church in New Wilmington.

The children are being taught the great part that music plays in the worship of the church. The congregation looks forward to the Junior choir anthem the last Sunday of each month.

Unity church, as a whole, is supporting the project. Last fall a free will offering was taken to purchase material for robes. One hundred and fifty dollars was received for this purpose and the mothers and friends made the maroon garments.

Rev. Thomas Russell, pastor of the Unity church and also a talented choral artist, will illustrate two hymns at the close of the service.

The CHURCHES of CHRIST SALUTE YOU Rom. 16:16

WHY CALL YE ME LORD, LORD AND DO NOT THE THINGS WHICH I SAY? LK 6:46

The New Testament church assembled on the first day of the week—the Lord's day—to worship God. How did they worship Him? Their worship on that day included the observance of the Lord's Supper and their contribution to the Lord's work—Acts 2:42; 20:7; 1 Cor 11:23-28; 16:1, 2. They worshipped God in spirit and in truth—John 4:21-24. Also with spirit and understanding—1 Cor 14:15. They offered sacrifice of praise through Christ Heb. 13:15 Col 3:16, 17. The Bible is silent about using choirs, rituals, instrumental music, prayer books, etc., in the worship. The worship of the early church was prompted by love 1 Cor 13:1, by gratitude (grace) Col 3:16, by desire to honor God Act 4:23-28. Their worship on the Lord's Day consisted of the following "Items of worship": the apostles teaching; the breaking of bread, Acts 20:7; praise Acts 2:47; Exhortation 1 Tim 3:13; preaching Acts 20:7; contribution 1 Cor 16:2; prayers Acts 2:42; singing Eph 5:19, and reading of the Scriptures 1 Tim 4:13. Such worship was edifying 1 Cor 14:26; instructive Col 3:16 and authorized by the apostles Acts 2:42, Matt 28:19.

Prosecution May Conclude Monday In Student's Trial

IOWA CITY, Ia., March 25.—(INS)—The prosecution drove today toward an early end to its case against Robert Bednasek, handsome University of Iowa student accused of strangling his blonde campus sweetheart.

Prosecutor Jack White scored what observers termed a sensational victory at the close of the second week of the Iowa city trial by gaining admission of the defendant's 2,000-word statement about the co-ed's death last Dec. 11.

Before getting that statement into evidence late yesterday, White presented two co-ed witnesses who testified Bednasek was a spurned lover of Margaret Ann Jackson. A third witness, a policeman, told the jury of eight men and four women the 24-year-old defendant admitted a "homicidal impulse to kill" his 20-year-old girl friend.

Indications were that the prosecutor will rest his case some time Monday, when court resumes after a weekend recess or early Tuesday.

Bednasek, a Cedar Rapids, Ia., youth studying abnormal psychology, is expected to take the stand in his own defense next week.

LET'S STICK TO MOSES!

When they were preparing to produce the motion picture "The Ten Commandments," the director and the author of the story consulted a professor who had been recommended as an authority on the Law of Moses. They expected a scholarly explanation, but when the professor had finished, there was little left of the Ten Commandments—and no story.

After the interview, when they were alone again, the disgruntled director remarked: "We'll stick to Moses."

Yes, let's stick to Moses! These may be those who would abolish the Ten Commandments, but let's stick to the Commandments as God gave them to us through Moses.

And there is no better way of doing so, than by sticking to Jesus Christ, Who gave us the Commandments of love—the love of God and the love of our neighbor. All other Commandments are contained in these two.

"Thou shalt love the Lord, thy God..." The observance of Christ's first Commandment will establish in us a strong, dignified personal relationship to God. If we love the true God, we will give Him the honor that is His due... we will respectfully use His Holy Name... we will not think it too much to spend one day of the week in His company.

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself," said the Savior. Who should hold first place among our neighbors. If not our parents... or our own children?

And it should be obvious that if we love our neighbor, we will not take his life, or damage his health. Decent human love surely excludes the burlesque of love called adultery and the fierce attack which this lust makes upon the innocent and unprotected.

We would never steal from the ones we love; nor would we rob them of their good name. Certainly we would not lift a covetous hand to deprive them of the things intended to make their lives full and contented.

Let's stick to Moses, whose Commandments forbade human beings to break the bonds and destroy the relationships that preserve human dignity, develop character and guarantee human safety.

Let's stick to Christ, Who, in a more spiritual way, pointed out that if we love rightly and well, we will obey the law of God... protect all the relationships that guarantee our own happiness and make life safe and happy for the people who are our neighbors.

The Ten Commandments are God's design for human living. Are you familiar with them? Do you understand how important they are in your daily life? Write today for our free pamphlet on this subject. Ask for Pamphlet No. 12-KC.

'Productive Power' Show Is Presented Here Friday Night

Industrial representatives of this area witnessed demonstrations of production-speeding techniques at George Washington Junior high school Friday night. Sponsored by the Pennsylvania Power company, the demonstrations were part of the "Productive Power" show arranged and presented by the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

There was a display of effects of wire size and circuit protection on factory electrical distribution systems. An electronic air cleaner, known as the precipitation demonstrator, showed its ability to remove particles as small as 1,250,000th of an inch from the air. The speed with which paint dries by infrared heat was compared to other methods.

The part adequate plant lighting plays in decreasing manufacturing costs, increasing output and reducing accident rates was also demonstrated.

The ease, speed and quality of modern electric resistance welding was shown and to demonstrate the speed of radio-frequency heating, one of the Westinghouse engineers coated several pieces of wood with glue. Within only 30 seconds after being placed in the heating machine, the glue had been "cooked" dry and the wood bonded together, which under repeated hammer blows, the wood itself splintered but the glued joints were undamaged.

Nearly $4,000 Raised During Heart Campaign

Lawrence county responded with a generous heart to the 1950 Heart Campaign, Daniel H. Treloar, Jr., Campaign chairman, said today.

Mr. Treloar announced total collections of $3941.36 since the opening of the campaign. This amount is a very gratifying contribution to the needs of the American Heart Association.

"On behalf of the Lawrence County Committee I want to thank the citizens of Lawrence county for their generous support in this fight to control the nation's most serious health menace," Mr. Treloar said.

"The funds collected will be of lasting benefit to our community in extending a vitally needed program of cardiac service and education. The portion of the funds allotted to the American Heart Association, with which our organization is affiliated, will help support our doctors and scientists in the all-important search for the causes of the heart diseases.

"The organizations and the many, many individuals who so generously volunteered their services in the Heart Campaign deserve the gratitude of the community. We have all learned a great deal during the Heart Campaign—and not the least of our lessons is that there is great hope for future heart sufferers. And we have also learned again that the men and women of Lawrence county are sensitive to the needs of their fellow Americans when those needs are made known."

EASTER EGG SITUATION SCRAMBLED

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Permanent "Open House"

One of the things that children and young people most appreciate about their homes is a welcoming attitude on the part of the parents. Over and over again I've heard grown ups mention that the thing they remember most warmly about their childhood home was that all the kids in the neighborhood came to play in their backyard. And the usual reason for the youngsters gathering in this particular backyard was not because of fancy equipment. It was because of the friendliness of the particular parent whose yard it was.

Not too long ago, I heard a mother from Ogden, Utah, tell of the sort of open house she kept for the friends of her high-school and college-age youngsters. They knew they could come in the side entrance, cook themselves a snack and go to the rumpus room any hour of the day or night. So instead of hanging out in places with none too savory a reputation, the "gang" that uses your quarters is much more likely to be considerate than in places where they are only reluctantly welcomed.

Rose Avenue Board
Business Meeting
For New Activities

Rose Avenue P.T.A. Executive committee met Thursday at 1:30 o'clock in the teachers' room of the school. Mrs. Samuel Rashid presided at the business session.

Mrs. Thomas Booher stated that the social committee met the preceding evening in her home. New equipment to aid in serving the association was attained and the committee is ready to welcome parents next Tuesday night, March 28.

The program for the monthly meeting next week will begin with room visitation, which starts promptly at 7:45 o'clock. The annual school budget for 1950-51 will be presented during the evening. It is hoped to have Dr. W. Fulton Jackson, Joseph Hensley, John Bechtel, Mrs. Elizabeth Kleckner, and Dr. Frank Burton of the school board as guests of the event. They will explain the budget and answer questions. There will also be a number of musical selections presented.

Show Success
Mrs. Chester Rowe, treasurer, gave a report on the February style show. Its success was due to the efforts of Mrs. Harry Davis and her committee, Mr. and Mrs. Max Stadfield, parents, teachers, and children who cooperated so very well.

The group agreed, if it meets the approval of the association, to send delegates to the South-west District Conference on April 22, in Washington, Pa. The unit will be represented this summer at the summer training school for P.T.A. work.

Miss Lucille Lutton stated that the award pictures had arrived and will go to the rooms having the best representation of parents at each meeting. There is one picture for the primary grades and one for intermediate.

Membership is still open in the association, with the total enrollment now three hundred thirty-two. Two classes have been added to the other two classes with one hundred percent room representation. These are Miss Verlee Armstrong, fourth grade, and Miss Ellen Gallagher, third grade.

John Cornelius, principal, gave the group the letter of approval from the school board for the use of the gym for a Father-Son night. All equipment used must be furnished by the group.

Book Compiled

The Rose Avenue P.T.A. Procedure, Publicity and Record book has been compiled very ably by Mrs. Garth McHattie. It will be on display at the next meeting. This book is a collection of the activities of the association, containing news prints, pictures, mentions of each month. It will be taken to the South-west District Conference for display, and brought back to be judged at the local council. Later the book will be taken to the State Convention.

Mrs. Rashid reported that the City Council meeting has been changed from the fifth to the sixth of April. Mrs. Kenyon Nicholl, president of the S.W. district, and Mrs. Frederick Gerthing, president of the Youngstown City Council, will be present at that time.

Three More Active
Tuberculosis Cases
Reported In County

Since members of the board of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis society met with the county commissioners on March 8, to discuss possibilities of having an isolation building in the county, three additional cases of active tuberculosis have been discovered in the county. It is reported by Mrs. Jane M. Cochran, executive secretary of the county society.

At the time of the meeting of the county commissioners, 12 active cases were reported, bringing the county total to 15 cases at the present.

These cases should all be in isolation wards at tuberculosis sanatoriums, Mrs. Cochran reports, but there are no facilities to care for them and they must remain in their homes, where it is bad for the patients, and those persons coming in contact with them.

At the meeting on March 8 at the Court House, the possibility of turning the farm near the county home into an isolation building for tuberculosis patients was discussed and has been under consideration.

Two local nurses have already made applications for work in the building should it be obtained, Mrs. Cochran reports.

Stassen Believes
Something May Have Happened To Stalin

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 25.—(INS)—Harold E. Stassen believes "something may have happened" to Soviet Premier Joseph Stalin to prevent him from voting in the recent Russian election.

The 1948 presidential aspirant told a "big ten" Young Republicans conference at the University of Michigan last night that a photograph showing Stalin at the polls was a "fake."

He noted he had met Stalin comparatively recently and said the premier at that time looked older than the photograph indicated.

Newsweek magazine also labeled the Soviet-distributed picture a fake.

The keynote speaker at the opening of the two-day convention urged the four thousand delegates to stage what he called "revolt and dissension within the Republican party" to arouse the "old guard."

Shoots Woman Then Suicides

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 25.—(INS)—A 40-year-old Montgomery factory worker killed the attractive mother of a boy who said "mommy told me he was going to do it" and then shot himself to death in the bedroom of her duplex apartment.

City Detective W. L. King said Floyd D. Hollon, father of three, waited for Mrs. Cody Owens to enter her apartment late yesterday and shot her four times with a .22 caliber pistol.

King, a close friend of the Hollon family, said the man's wife did not know of her husband's friendship with Mrs. Owens, 38, a cafe cashier. He added that Hollon's children were "crazy about him."

Neighbors stopped the slain woman's 10-year-old son, Tommy, when he came home 15 minutes after the double shooting and told him there was an "accident." They said he replied:

"I know who did it. My mommy told me Mr. Hollon said he was going to kill her and himself."

King said neighbors told him the two victims had been going out together frequently until a few weeks ago when Mrs. Owens, who was separated from her husband two years ago, began seeing another man.

A palatable dinner was served to 75 guests with senior regent, Mrs. Clara Jameson, acting as mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Jameson presented corsages and gifts from the auxiliary to Mrs. Bertha Dangerfield, Mrs. Elgin McConnell and Mrs. Edwin Fisher. The table decoration were hand-made by Mrs. Clara Rice.

Charter members of the organization include Mrs. Elizabeth McClymonds, Mrs. Mada Lean, Mrs. A. McClymonds, Mrs. Bertha Dangerfield, Mrs. Gae Shulliff and Mrs. Mae O'Neil. The graduate regents are Mrs. Mada Lean, Mrs. Della Fisher, Mrs. Elizabeth McClymonds, Mrs. Orpha McConnell and Mrs. Agnes Fisher. The local chapter was organized in 1937 by Mrs. Mary Rae, now deceased. Starting with an original membership of 60, there are now over 200 members in the organization.

After the meeting, games and canasta entertained the women. Prizes were won by Mrs. Ina Cleevely, Mrs. Elizabeth Cross, Mrs. Josephine Trumble and Colleen Patterson. Mrs. Huldah Doerr was awarded the door prize.

Committee for arrangements for the dinner included Mrs. Mabel Schell, chairlady, Mrs. Alice Clark, Mrs. Mary Perry, Mrs. Georgia Hurst, Mrs. Huldah Doerr, Mrs. Elizabeth Huston, Mrs. Sue Pander and Mrs. Clara Jameson.

Sunday the Women of the Moose will journey to Beaver Falls to initiate a new class of candidates for the Beaver Falls chapter. A chartered bus will leave the Moose home at 12 p. m.

March 31 the chairladies will have their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Elgin McConnell, 705 County Line street. The next regular meeting will be held April 5 at the Moose home.

JAIL MORE POPULOUS
CHICAGO—The "guest list" at the Cook county (Chicago) jail was larger in 1949 than in any other postwar year. The average daily population was 1158. On Nov. 2 there were 1280 prisoners on hand, the greatest number since the prohibition era. Commenting on the apparent popularity of the place, Warden Chester Fordney said: "I have a fine jail."

Two Clarion Students Killed In Auto Crash

CLARION, Pa., March 25.—Two Clarion State college students were killed Friday and a third seriously hurt when their auto hit a school bus.

Donald Whitehead, 19, of District, Armstrong county, was taken to the Oil City hospital. The three were thrown from their speeding convertible when it careened off Route 66 at a curve, then sideswiped the bus, whose only occupant was the driver.

Mrs. Pearl Patterson was hostess to the Plain Grove Home Economics club recently.

The day was spent in making lamp shades and reupholstering chairs, under the direction of Mrs. Lois Yack of New Castle, assistant Home Economics Extension Representative.

A delicious dinner was served at noon by the hostess, aided by her daughter, Mrs. J. Francis Boak, and daughter-in-law, Mrs. Don Patterson.

Special guests were Mrs. Roberta McCommon of Grove City and Mrs.

J. Francis Boak of New Castle road.

PLAIN GROVE GRANGE

A round-table discussion, "The Brannan Plan versus the Grange Plan," was held by Ed Gardner, chairman, Phil Carey and Given Shaw. Party stunts were conducted by Shirley Eppinger and Don Gibson.

The Master appointed a building committee, Phil Carey, John Hove, and Fred Fisher, to plan a new heating system for the hall. A degree team is also being organized by Master.

A chicken supper is being planned by the Home Economic committee, with Mrs. Genevieve Maxwell as chairman.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, March 28, with a program being planned by Mrs. Ruth Patterson. A debate will be held on "Housecleaning." Special music will be presented by the young members of the Carey and Gibson families.

Thomas of Pennsylvania avenue extension and Albert Thomas of Aliquippa, and their wives have returned from Akron, O., where they visited with their brother, Garfield Thomas and wife of Ellwood City, formerly of this city, who are confined to a hospital there.

The latter visited their daughter at a hospital in Akron last Sunday. Upon returning, while crossing a defective railroad track, their car was wrecked. Mr. Thomas suffered a crushed chest and fractured ribs; Mrs. Thomas' leg was fractured in four places and teeth knocked out. They are getting along as well as can be expected.

Men Attempt New Inventions For Fun

PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—(INS)—A physicist and an engineer have invented recoilless rifles which blow holes as effectively as guns weighing a ton, but the inventions have brought neither man money.

Dr. William J. Kroeger and C. Walton Musser both employed at Philadelphia's Frankford arsenal, explained that the government has "shop rights" to their patents.

Besides their rifles, the pair have received 20 other patents for their devices, including a safety device which automatically ejects an airplane flier from a cockpit.

Their rewards are always in the form of either gold medals or citations, but both say they are not looking for money because "we have a lot of fun."

Roof Fire At Boessert Plant

Four fire companies were called to the plant of the Boessert company, in the Seventh ward, at 9:50 o'clock this morning, when the roof over a furnace caught fire. The blaze spread for some little distance before it was brought under control. It is stated. Several thousand dollars damage was done by the blaze. Fire Chief Steinbrink reports.

At 8:33 p.m., Friday an alarm from Box 33 called firemen to the home of Margaret Eakin, of 1310 Croton avenue, where soot in an unused grate, which had not been properly closed, caught fire, and communicated to a bed on the second floor. Damage of $100 was done.

At 4:35 p.m., firemen were summoned to the Frenzel Auto Repair shop at 1211 Moravia street, where workmen set fire to a gasoline tank, which was being welded. They dragged the car from the garage with a towing car, and firemen extinguished the blaze, without any damage.

Second Flier Dies From Injuries At Rome, N. Y., Crash

ROME, N. Y., March 25.—(INS)—Major Charles J. Boice, Jr., 32, of Syracuse, died today at the Rome hospital from injuries suffered when an air force C-47 crashed Thursday during a takeoff from the Rome Army Base during a snowstorm.

Capt. Posie M. Clinton of Graham, Texas, was killed in the accident and three other air force men were injured in addition to Major Boice. The three others escaped with minor injuries.

Female Mosquito Needed For Test

NEW YORK, March 25.—(INS)—Wanted: A female mosquito with a sexy siren voice.

The job: Radio broadcasting. Applicants apply to Dr. Morton C. Kahn, head of the department of parasitology of New York hospital.

Dr. Kahn has rigged up a device for killing mosquitoes by the thousands, luring the males to their deaths by broadcasting the voice of the female magnified one million times.

Visitors to his laboratory who heard the voice said it sounded like a giant saw in need of oiling cutting on a nail in a hardwood plank.

The loudspeaker is covered by a grill charged with 10,000 volts of electricity and the male mosquitoes speeding toward romance are electrocuted.

Dr. Kahn, who also is in the faculty of the Cornell Medical school, said he tried out his device in a Cuban bog recently and it attracted countless thousands of mosquitoes.

He intends to put it to use in the United States next summer but left unanswered the question of how to dispose of the female stingers.

Thirty Arrests Of Communist Youths In West Berlin

BERLIN, March 25.—(INS)—West Berlin police listed 30 arrests today in a weekly summary of activities against Communist youths who invaded the western sector to sing, shout, march, make speeches and distribute leaflets.

Sixteen of the arrests were made last night in the U. S. sector where 200 of the Communist youths tried to stage a noisy parade. Some of the demonstrators tried to harangue a menacing mob of non-Communist residents of West Berlin.

Another nine were arrested earlier for distributing illegal Communist propaganda.

The total of 30 arrests was a sharp drop from the previous week when 94 Communist youths were jailed.

Search For Boy Ends When He Returns Home

"I was at some boy's house."

This was the explanation of William Grannis, age 8, of Harrison street, who failed to return from Thaddeus Stevens school classes until 9:10 p. m. Friday.

Alarmed, his parents asked police to search for him. However, they were unable to find him before he returned safe and sound to his home.

"Are you going to stay out like that any more?" he was asked today. "No," replied William emphatically.

No Trace Found Of Sports Announcer

RALEIGH, N. C., March 25.—(INS)—State police in Raleigh today said they still have found no trace of Ray Reed, widely-known southern sports announcer who disappeared March 16.

They said there is a possibility of foul play.

Reed's disappearance was disclosed last night by Radio Station WRAL of which he is sports director. Law enforcement agencies all along the eastern seaboard were alerted.

No Clues Found To Missing Cadet

WEST POINT, N. Y., March 25.—(INS)—West Point authorities announced today that a second foot-by-foot search of the sprawling U. S. military academy has been complete without any clue being found to the disappearance of Cadet Richard C. Cox.

The 21-year-old third classman vanished January 14, and West Point officials have said they fear he must have been the victim of foul play. Military investigators and the FBI have made no comment on the story of an Ohio filling station operator that he is convinced he saw Cox twice since the disappearance, both times accompanied by a young woman.

WHY DON'T MOTOR TRUCKS PAY FOR THEIR ROADBED?

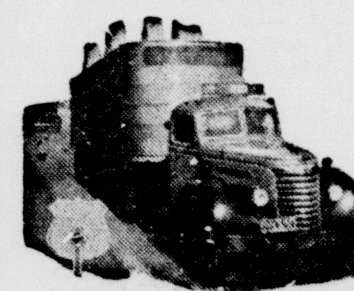

How often have you heard that one? Or this one—"passenger cars pay for highways on which trucks operate."

Perhaps you would be interested in the truth of the matter. Here it is. In 1948 the total construction cost of all the highways, roads and streets built in the United States was $1,531,000,000.

And—in 1948, motor trucks paid, in special highway use taxes and Federal excise taxes, more than $1,089,000,000 more than two thirds of the entire cost. Yet motor trucks use only a small percentage of the streets and highways.

Here is some more truth. Maintenance and renewal of highways in Pennsylvania is now of major importance. In 1949 Pennsylvania spent $26,367,000 for repairs and upkeep of state administered roads. In 1949, motor trucks in Pennsylvania paid in taxes in Pennsylvania, $42,240,000.

It takes money to build and maintain highways and the motor trucks are paying their share.

Philadelphia Athletics Spring Second Triple Play Of Training Season

Macks Defeat Buffalo, 10-9

Reds And Tigers
Record Victories

(By International News Service)
The Philadelphia Athletics, whose flashy defense set a major league double play record last year, seem to be aiming at bigger game this season.

The A's pulled off their second exhibition game triple play yesterday as they defeated Buffalo of the International league, 10 to 9.

The three-play killing went from third to second to first after Bob Stewart grounded to Bob Dillinger of the A's with men on first and second in the second inning.

Philadelphia also got 14 walks in the game but needed a five-run spurge in the ninth to win.

Reds-Tigers Win

Both the Cincinnati Reds and the Detroit Tigers won their games yesterday through the medium of large seven-run innings. The Reds scored seven times in the eighth to down the Boston Red Sox, 8 to 2, and Detroit walloped the New York Yankees, 10 to 6, getting seven tallies in the sixth.

Larry Doby's seventh-inning home run with one man on base gave Cleveland a 6-to-5 win over San Diego of the Pacific Coast loop.

Bob Elliott hit a bases-full homer for the Boston Braves, but they didn't really need the blow very badly as they drubbed the St. Louis Cardinals, 11 to 1. Dick Donovan, Glenn Elliott and Bob Hall allowed the Cards only six hits.

Senators Battered

The Philadelphia Phillies hung a 13-to-3 pasting on the poor, battered Washington Senators. Phil Ruff Meyer, the boy who thought he had a broken elbow a week ago, allowed only one run in five innings on the ground.

Brooklyn had little trouble mowing its Mobile Farm club, 10 to 2. Bill McCahan, the former Athletic hurler, showed little indication of his old arm trouble as he held Mobile to one hit in three innings.

However, the one hit was a homer by Joe Tepsic, the fellow who insisted on sitting on the bench during the 1947 world series because Branch Rickey had promised not to farm him out.

Pettit Pitches Well

Rain postponed the Chicago White Sox' scheduled contest with Sacramento and that between the New York Giants and Oakland. The Chicago Cubs and St. Louis Browns also were washed out at Los Angeles after playing to a five-inning six-all tie. Who says it never rains in California.

Paul Pettit, the Pittsburgh Pirates' $100,000 bonus baby, made a reasonably successful bow in organized ball as his New Orleans club defeated Indianapolis, 6 to 5, in ten innings. Paul pitched the first three innings for the Pels, giving up one run.

Freebooter Wins Grand National

Aintree, England, March 25.—(INS)—Freebooter, the favorite, won the 104th running of the storied Grand National Steeplechase today at Aintree race course. The nine-year-old bay won easily before a holiday crowd of 300,000 that included the king and queen of England and the royal princesses.

Wot No Sun was second. Achtan Major was third.

Rockey Marciano Wins Decision Over La Starza In New York Garden Bout

By CHARLES EINSTEIN

(International News Service Writer)

NEW YORK, March 25.—If wishes were heavyweights, punching Rocky Marciano of Brockton, Mass., could claim a title shot today by dint of his minute scorecard victory over Roland La Starza.

The sad fact is that wishes were heavyweights at Madison Square Garden last night. Marciano beat La Starza at ten rounds on a referee's point call of 9 to 6 after the rounds had been scored all even.

No Match for Louis

And Joe Louis could beat Marciano from a wheelchair, probably, although the state of the heavyweights is such that anything goes.

If Louis does announce a comeback tonight, as he is supposed to, the still-unbeaten Marciano undoubtedly will claim a crack at the crown. So will Ezzard Charles, the NBA champion; Freddie Beshore, if he shows well against Charles in their Buffalo title fight next week; Jersey Joe Walcott; World's Light Heavyweight Champ Joey Maxim; Bruce Woodcock; Lee Savold; and probably La Starza.

The latter, a 23-year-old Bronx butcher, carried a 37-bout winning streak into his fight with Marciano before 13,658 garden fans last night. He was a narrow choice in the betting.

Throughout, La Starza showed tactical advantage. He missed less and chose his openings with skill.

Only One Knockdown

He also bled more and got hit harder, dropping to one knee in a seven-count that the bell ended after a particularly murderous Marciano right in the fourth.

This was the only knockdown of the fight, but strangely Marciano—also undefeated, with a string of 27 in a row now—looked best in the eighth round, when he landed four staggering shots.

This round was taken from him for low blows, and on the final scorecards, Judge Arthur Aidelan had it 5 for La Starza, 4 for Marciano and one even. Judge Arthur Schwartz had it the other way, exactly. Referee Jack Watson had it 5 rounds each.

Watson's card thus created the opportunity, unique under the New York state boxing rules, for him to vote further in points. In being scored on points in New York, a man gets up to four points for winning a round and none if he loses it. Thus Marciano's 9-to-6 victory.

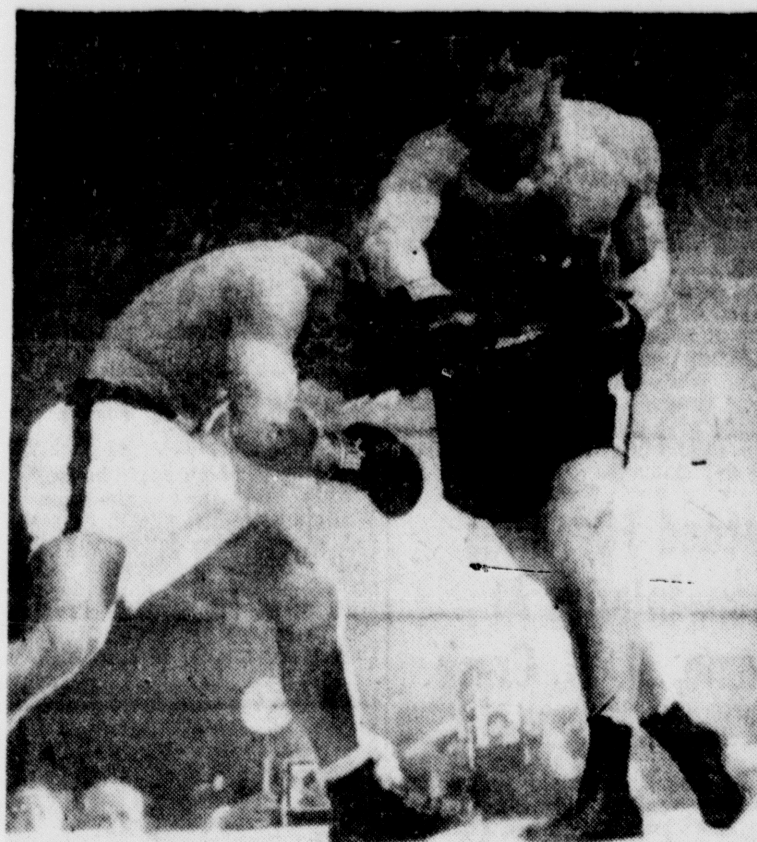

Things were never like this with Louis.

Bradley Meets Baylor Tonight

KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 25.—(INS)—Bradley University's explosive basketball team meets Baylor tonight for the Western Division National Collegiate Athletic Association laurels and if the Braves from Peoria, Ill., don't win, somebody may be asked to take a saliva test.

Bradley has had little trouble trouncing four teams which had little trouble defeating Baylor.

In last night's semifinals, however, Bradley was given more opposition than it desired before toppling UCLA, 73 to 59. Baylor beat Brigham Young, 56 to 55, in the last seven seconds in the other contest in Kansas City.

Titan, Grover Gridders Book Cage Benefit For Baseball

Football and basketball stars from Westminster College and Grove City will put on a twin cage attraction Monday night at New Wilmington.

The basketball doubleheader is a fund raising spectacle designed to help re-establish baseball as a major sport at Westminster.

Westminster College varsity football players will don basketball uniforms and meet Grove City College gridders on the hardwood in the opening game at 6:45 p. m. The 8:15 event will pit Westminster varsity basketballers against an all-star intramural quintet from the college.

Push Diamond Sport

Baseball, which has not been a part of the Westminster sports program for over a decade, is being pushed this spring by alumni groups and others in connection with the approved development of a large new athletic field by the college this spring.

"Buzz" Ridl has been named baseball coach. He held an indoor practice session Thursday with team prospects. No college games will be scheduled until final approval for the sport has been obtained from college authorities.

Monday night's benefit game will see most of this year's Westminster College football players dressed for basketball action. Gridders who expect to see action include Victor Bianchi, Charles Nicholas, Jack Welty, George Watson, Roy Cross, Paul Campbell, Skip Wilson, Charles Paul, Ralph Stevens and Larry Verone.

Bessemer Club Meets Tuesday

Bessemer Rod and Gun club will meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday night when officers will be elected for 1950 and plans made for the coming fishing season.

Stengel sees the Yanks in again, with DiMaggio, Henrich, Page, Rizzuto, Coleman and Berra coming through like last year.

Under the baseball rules no player may be cut more than 25 percent of his previous year's salary.

North Carolina Battles CCNY

Winner Will Meet Western Winners

NEW YORK, March 25.—(INS) City College of New York and North Carolina State play tonight for the NCAA Eastern Regional Basketball championship with CCNY favored to pass another milestone in its quest for an unprecedented cage "grand slam".

The winner of tonight's contest will meet the Western champion—either Bradley or Baylor—for the national title.

CCNY Favored

No team ever has won both the national invitation and the NCAA tournaments in the same year. CCNY already has the NIT tucked away, and local pride was making the Beavers a five-point choice over North Carolina State for tonight's Madison Square Garden game.

The Wolfpack's best hope seems to be to outlast the vibrant Beavers. Both teams prefer a hard-running, spray-shooting brand of ball, although it took set-shot proficiency to pull the Beavers through in a 56-to-55 squeaker with Ohio State on Thursday.

Ohio State and Holy Cross will fight it out for third place tonight in a consolation game that matches two all-Americans—Dick Schneitker of Ohio and Bob Cousy of Holy Cross. Of the two, Schneitker gave a better account of himself in the first round.

Hank's Advance; Tempy's, Bessemer Lose At Hubbard

Hank advanced in the Hubbard, Ohio, tournament last night by beating Sig Eps of Westminster, 53 to 31.

Tempy's lost to Vias Grill of Youngstown, and Bessemer was edged by Sharon Westinghouse, 33 to 29.

Hank had a surprisingly easy time registering its third win in the tournament. He got 18 in the quarter finals match at 2:30 today. Don Black led the locals with 15 points and Buck Kerr chipped in 11. Jack Jones paced the losers with nine, while Jerry Hyder and Connors had eight each.

Boatner was best for Sharon Westinghouse. He got 18 in the match against Bessemer. Anderson and Madrid split 15 for Bessemer.

Youngstown College players dominated the Visa line up that downed Tempy's. Magusa and Brian had eight each. Sam Calazza had 6 for Tempy's.

K. Pulaski and Hank are the only two local teams still in the Hubbard tournament. Finals are tonight. Hank's would be required to play three games and the Kay-Pees four games in the same day to reach the finals.

Announcement has been made by the New Castle Senators of the Mid-Atlantic League of the signing of Bill Cornelius of Beaver, Pa., a second baseman. The 21-year-old former Lehigh University star will report to the Senators at New Castle Sunday, April 16, to make the training trip to Green-castle.

Cornelius attended the Washington try out school at Winter Gardens, Fla., recently and made a big impression on Ossie Bluege, director of the Senators farm system, who thinks Cornelius is ready for fast company. The Beaver youth is 5 feet 8 and weighs 165 pounds. He is reported to be a good hitter and better than average fielder.

Umpires Association Will Meet Monday

Lawrence County Umpires Association will meet Monday evening at the YMCA at 8 o'clock, it is announced by Secretary Al Morella.

This is a very important meeting and all umpires should attend, it is reported.

A special meeting is set for 7 o'clock for the umpires who will make up the rules and regulations for the City, County and North County leagues and also bi-laws for the umpires association.

Umpires asked to be present for the 7 o'clock meeting are Ben Price, Bert Price, Anthony Priscaro and Joe Frijone.

Sixteen Teams Start YMCA Junior Tourney On Monday

Sixteen teams have entered the Junior YMCA basketball tournament which starts Monday evening with a full card of four games.

For the past two seasons the spectator appeal of the Junior tourney has increased tremendously and this year's affair apparently is heading for more of the same.

The raising of the age limit from 18 to 19 years allows most of the same tourney personnel that participated last year to take part again.

Defending champion Eagles will be playing under the name of Morella's this season. This club boasts such stalwarts as Wayne Gray, Don Reed and Dick Hamilton.

Stars Will Compete

Sno-top has been runner-up to the Morella's for the past two seasons and will be called the Elks club this year. Don Black, Tom Hutchison, and Bob Reiber head the revenge-bound Elks, coached by Bob Jackson.

Many other city and county high school basketball stars will participate in the four-day affair.

There will be 48 trophies given away to players and teams in this year's tournament. Among them are a 19-inch trophy for the first place team, and many individual awards for players.

Admission prices are twenty-five cents.

The first round schedule is as follows:

Monday, March 27
6:30, DeCarbo vs Hot Dogs.
7:30, Morella's vs W. S. Shamrocks.
8:30, Ecclesiast vs Feet.
9:30, Tempy's vs Hillville.

Tuesday, March 28
6:30, Gerson's vs Lepore's.
7:30, Elks vs Independents.
8:30, Citizens vs Y. Youngsters.
9:30, Gus' Little Five vs Kurnrows.

A. Z. A. CHAMPS—Local AZA basketball champs left Friday evening for Asbury Park, N. J. There they will participate in the Eastern Seaboard elimination tournament. The New Castle team eliminated competition from Eastern Ohio, West Virginia and Western Pennsylvania in a tournament in Pittsburgh. Team, pictured as they prepared to leave, are, (left to right), Joe Cohen, Dan Nixon, Bill Alansky, Phil Greenberg, Larry Haims, Don Kulkin, Ernest Bobick, Charles Gillman, Gerald Greenberg, Robert Solomon, Stewart Krakover, David Alter and their coach Eph Solomon (arrow).

Poughkeepsie Loses Regatta

NEW YORK, March 25.—(INS)

—It is the Marietta Regatta now and no longer the Poughkeepsie. The Intercollegiate Rowing Association announced yesterday its decision to move its classic crew race to the Ohio river city for its 48th running on June 17.

The Hudson river course at Poughkeepsie has been unsatisfactory in recent years because of choppy waters and hazards such as floating driftwood and submerged logs.

Baseball seems to creep into some people's bones about this time of year.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

NOT SO LONG AGO, a poll was conducted by a news association to name the "Fighter of the Half Century", and the honor was bestowed upon Jack Dempsey, the Manassa Mauler who became world's heavyweight king. However, there were some who expressed opposition to Jacques drawing down the honor, among them being Tom McMahon, the New Castle middleweight, later a light-heavyweight, and yet later, a heavyweight. Tom, in his day, was no slouch as a fighter. It is interesting to read where Jimmie Doyle, who conducts "The Sport Trail" in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, quote Tom as follows:

"The best heavyweight of the past half century was Sam Langford, the Boston 'Tar Baby'. He is now an almost forgotten man. Sam was at his best about the time Jesse Willard came along. (Tom won a popular decision over Willard before Jess defeated Jack Johnson, thereby annexing the world's heavyweight championship. "Willard wouldn't have any part of Langford. And remember Harry Wills, the fellow they 'used' to knock Dempsey for ducking? Langford knocked him 'kicking' away back in 1914. And when Langford was only a middleweight he gave Jack Johnson such a bad time Johnson steered clear of him, ever afterward."

"What a fighter Sam was—a wide-shouldered, chunky guy, with arms that reached almost to his ankles," said Tom who then recalled: "There was many a good story about him. The best I heard, was the one that came back from London when he went there to fight Gunner Moir."

"An argument came up between the managers and the promoters, over whom should referee. Sam didn't say a word for a long time, but finally he became sick and tired of the argument."

"This is MY rule, gentlemen," he said, "holding up his right hand and it won't be long until it decides the fight."

It wasn't long, either. Sam stretched the Gunner with a right to the jaw in the very first rounds.

When Jimmie Dime took his brigade to California, Tom fought Langford and the referee stopped the fight in the fifth or sixth round after Tom was knocked down.

Langford now blind, is living in New York, on the proceeds of a fund raised by sports writers and friends some years ago.

Charles beat Maxim twice in 1942 when they just were starting out as young fellows, and then confirmed his superiority in 1949 with another win.

AUSTIN, Tex., March 25.—(INS)

Retired heavyweight champion Joe Louis, who admits he has been thinking of a match with NBA titleholder Elmer Charles next September, plans an "important announcement" tonight.

The Brown Bomber breezed through a four-round exhibition bout with veteran Henry Hall at Austin, Tex., last night. After the fight he said:

"A comeback victory would be as great an honor for me as being undefeated. Nobody has ever done that."

Travers Scores Coen's Report

Legal Action Possible, In Gambling Inspection

Sheriff Frank L. Coen's monthly expense report came before the county commissioners on Friday, but was not approved following a statement by County Commissioner Joseph F. Travers.

"Mr. Coen has asked why we check his expense account," said Travers, "but I believe it needs some inspection. Here are charges for taking patients to Torrancia and Fairview, and apparently they were taken down by persons outside the sheriff's office."

"He has more deputies than any sheriff ever had and it seems to me he could use his deputies instead of paying outsiders."

"This one referring to a mileage charge I expect to turn over to a lawyer for action," Mr. Travers referred to a charge of nine miles which carried the following explanation: "Investigating Confer Leach and Travers places with state police."

"I want to know who the Travers is that is running a gambling joint. Certainly it is no one in my family."

CHILDREN'S SALUTATION TO ELDERS

Question: What salutation should children be taught to use when meeting elders?

Answer: "How do you do, Mrs. Smith." Hello should be reserved for their contemporaries.

Question: Is it correct for a woman to refuse graciously a seat offered by a man in a street car?

Answer: No. She should accept it unless she will get off at the next station, in which case she should thank the man and explain the situation.

Question: My daughter who lives in a distant city will marry soon in the city where she now lives and I shall be unable to attend the wedding. Should the invitations be issued in her name or in mine?

Answer: Even though she will marry away from home and you will be unable to attend, the invitations should be issued in your name.

Question: Is it proper to have a corsage for the guest-of-honor at a tea, as well as for those pouring?

Answer: It is proper but not necessary.

Question: How are radishes, olives and celery taken from a serving dish?

Answer: With the fingers and they are eaten with the fingers too.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers enclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.
